SALVAGE LOVE

August 15–17. Fort Mason hosts the annual American Craft Show, which may sound like something you'd take your Aunt Mabel to, but is actually a showcase of some of the latest, most unusual furniture, fashion and jewelry designs in the country. This year, the show has gone green to boot, featuring such local artists as Amy Faust, who creates eco-friendly baubles out of salvaged glass and recycled silver and gold, and Susan Kinzig, who fashions one-of-a-kind lamps of brass, copper and handblown glass. craftcouncil.org
