

The Honolulu Advertiser

February 3, 2008

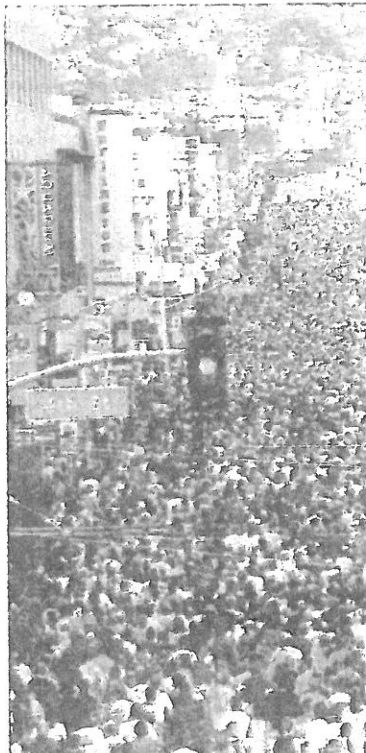

Let's Go: Hawaii and the World

ING Bay to Breakers 12K

MAY 18

ING BAY TO BREAKERS 12K

It's the largest, among the oldest and definitely in the running for wackiest footraces in the U.S.: the annual ING Bay to Breakers 12K in San Francisco, set for May 18. The run starts at Howard and Main streets and plunges wildly through the heart of the city, ending at the Pacific on Ocean Beach. Some serious sorts do actually run the thing, but many more participate in "centipedes" (runners tethered together) or don all manner of costumes with all manner of attendant gear. A costume contest (at Golden Gate Park), Body Expo (Justin Herman Plaza) and Footstock festival and concert follow the race. And the first 10,000 finishers get their names in the San Francisco Examiner the next day. 415-359-2800; ingbaytobreakers.com.

—Advertiser staff

CINDY CHEW | Courtesy of ING Bay to Breakers