What to Do This Weekend By Sharon Tanenbaum

Whether you want to read, see a movie, or listen to music, there's something for you.

Check out "Journey to the Stars"

To celebrate its one year anniversary, the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco is bringing out the stars—literally. Whoopi Goldberg narrates the new planetarium film "Journey to the Stars" about the lives and deaths of the celestial stars. Not in the area but still want to visit? Check out the Academy's adorable penguin cam.
