exploring the web

Here are some fun sites where we've been spending a lot of time...

www	what is it?	be sure to...
pluggedin.com	MTV cranked up a notch—all videos, all the time! Watch them full screen and in HD...nice!	Set up an account and put in your music preferences. Then you can get suggestions for new vids to add to your playlist.
imemories.com	Video editing and sharing for any format—whether it's from your cell phone or camera, or even sending in old VHS tapes! Note: There is a monthly fee for the service.	Be smart and cautious about what you put out in the world in digital form. But take advantage of this cool way to digitize the old family favorites.
redkaraoke.com	Singing, singing and more singing! You can simply sing along, or you can record yourself and save it!	Try uploading at least one of your recordings, no matter how bad it is! Hilarious good fun!
hangproud.com	Be free of negativity! A site that simply exists to make a more empowering world for girls and women. You can get advice and suggestions on lots of topics.	Check out their goodies in the Shop. Our fave is the "Damn I Look Good" compact mirror.
campusexplorer.com	Look into your future to see college life and how it may interest you. Search for subjects, locations, financial aid and more!	Take advantage of the photos, videos and advice to find the best school for you!
