Public Relations Global Network (PRGN) Announces Addition of Two New Agencies

New member agencies added in Germany and Canada

SAN FRANCISCO, CA, December 3, 2009 -- Public Relations Global Network (PRGN) (www.prgn.com), the international network of leading independent public relations agencies, today announced the addition of two new members in Germany and Canada. The worldwide network now numbers 40 independently-owned public relations agencies on six continents. The PRGN members approved the new agencies at its semi-annual meeting in New York late last month.

PRGN president-elect Patricia Perez, Fantail president Jim Warrington, PRGN President José Luiz Schiavoni, and the cometis team: CEO Michael Diegelmann, Henryk Deter and Ulrich Wiehle at the PRGN semi-annual meeting in New York, where Fantail and cometis were announced as the organization's new members.

Joining the ranks of PRGN are cometis AG, a financial services and corporate communications consultancy near Frankfurt, Germany; and public relations agency Fantail Communications from Toronto, Canada.

“We are delighted to welcome cometis and Fantail to PRGN,” said José Luiz Schiavoni, president of PRGN and chief executive of São Paulo, Brazil-based PR firm S2 Comunicação Integrada. “PRGN has experienced tremendous growth over the past few years and the addition of two new members further expands our global reach and will provide additional strategic resources for our members’ clients.”

New PRGN member agencies are:

cometis AG
Frankfurt (Wiesbaden), Germany

Cometis AG is a consultancy focused on financial and corporate communication. Founded in 2000 and originally based in Frankfurt, the company is now based in Wiesbaden, the capital of the German state of Hesse. Cometis' team of about 20 employees commands long-standing experience in capital markets, the foundation of cometis' top-of-the-range strategic, operational and methodical consulting services. Cometis has realized 14 IPO projects and two additional stock market listings over the past four years and established itself as a leading IR consultancy in Germany and throughout Europe.

Cometis also offers a broad range of services to clients for ongoing financial communication, including drafting content, designing quarterly and annual reports, investor presentations, press and ad hoc releases, corporate Web sites, organizing media and investor roadshows and preparing for annual shareholders' meetings. A key focus of the company's consulting services is personal coaching for company representatives, including both individual media and financial coaching.

"We are extremely honored to be invited to join PRGN as a new member," said CEO Michael Diegelmann. "This network brings together entrepreneurial communication specialists from all over the world. The experience they have already shared with us is invaluable for cometis and our clients. We look forward to offering our financial expertise for international companies that want to communicate in the heart of Europe."

Fantail Communications, Inc.
Toronto, Ontario

and client side, yet are truly entrepreneurs at heart. Clients range from a global bank and technology leader, to national food companies, the world's leading book club, a university, regional health associations and local professional services firms. In all cases, the agency offers communications strategy expertise, inspiring ideas, quantifiable outcomes and a roll-up-the-sleeves work philosophy. In addition to traditional PR agency services, Fantail specializes in sponsorship activation, social media campaigns and corporate social responsibility programs.

“At Fantail, we’re big believers in innovation and charting new territory for our clients. We are delighted with the invitation to join PRGN,” said Jim Warrington, President of Fantail Communications. “What better way to give our clients greater reach and access to new markets and to a world of talent and ideas? And, other PRGN member agencies globally now have some firm feet on the ground in central Canada. It’s a win-win for all concerned.”
