Cal Academy of Sciences' reindeer game

Liz Hafalia / The Chronicle

Santa and entomologist Dave Kavanaugh watches Miles (right) and an unnamed female reindeer on the California Academy of Sciences' living roof Tuesday, part of the academy's "Tis the Season for Science" exhibition. The academy is also holding a contest to name the female reindeer on its website, www.calacademy.org. In addition to naming the reindeer, the winner will get a prize package. The contest closes on Dec. 5.
