The California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco Golden Gate Park has launched a special holiday season.

Through December 31, 2010, travelers can book a special “green” package at two, top San Francisco hotels and receive admission to the California Academy of Sciences.

Highlights of the holiday festivities will include stunning photographs by Arctic National Wildlife Refuge photographer Subhankar Banerjee and a real life igloo.

Regular academy exhibits range from a four-story rainforest to a state-of-the-art planetarium and a living roof (above).

Here are the related hotel packages:

Fairmont Hotel’s Discovery of Science Package:

- One night’s accommodations at The Fairmont San Francisco;
- Welcome organic bottle of wine;
- Two general admission tickets to the California Academy of Sciences and
- 20% off of parking charges for hybrid vehicles.

W Hotel San Francisco’s Who’s Keen to be Green Package:

- Two vouchers for Eco-licious cocktails at W Café or XYZ Lounge;
