

August 30, 2013

Electric car-share program launching in Pleasanton

City CarShare is launching the Bay Area's first battery-powered car sharing program in Pleasanton, the Mercury News reports.

The San Francisco-based nonprofit has developed the program, called Dash, in partnership with Toyota, giving people access to more than two dozen Scion iQ-EVs, Toyota's electric commuter car.

The fleet will be kept in lots at the city's Hacienda Business Park and will be available 24 hours a day.

http://www.bizjournals.com/sanfrancisco/morning\_call/2013/08/electric-car-share-program-launching.html