

Weather: Mostly cloudy, 59/47

CITY ★ FINAL

Sunday, October 22, 2006

DAILY NEWS

$1.00

NEW YORK'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER

nydailynews.com

BY JULIAN KESNER

KNOW IT ALL

San Francisco's going to the dogs

If you're headed to the Bay Area on business, you can now bring your faithful four-legged friend and make a long weekend of it. The Hilton San Francisco Financial District has just launched a "Dogs of the Bay" package that starts at $209 for the weekend (Friday and Saturday night). The Fido-friendly deal includes in-room breakfast and dinner service for your pooch, a canine-friendly walking map of downtown San Francisco, gourmet doggie treats and a complimentary chew toy, and a dog bed and water dish to use during the stay. The only news sure to elicit barks and growls: Walking or sitting for your pet costs extra, and there may be an extra cleaning fee. Still, it's rare that any business-oriented hotel in a big city bends over backward so much for man's best friend. For more information, call (415) 433-6600 or visit hilton.com and select the San Francisco Financial District location.