

REAL ESTATE / By J.K. Dineen and Blanca Torres

May 1, 2009

CONDOS

Tishman Speyer racks up sales at the Infinity

Rincon Hill's population is on the rise.

The first residents moved into the second tower of the Infinity on April 18 as Tishman Speyer pushes to sell units in the face of the ongoing housing slump. Tishman says it has closed 322 homes in the Infinity's 365-unit first phase, and more than 75 new homes sold at the Infinity in the past 90 days, making it "one of the fastest-selling large-scale luxury developments in California."

Shannon

"The Infinity has tremendous momentum right now, averaging six sales per week and more than 130 visitors to the sales and design center each week for the past three months," said Carl Shannon, managing director of Tishman Speyer in the Bay Area.