Maxthon Cloud Web Browser (Free)

What's it about? Maxthon's browser is made to be lightweight and secure, because it's designed specifically for people with multiple devices, so it can be used across all of them.

What's cool? Cloud browser Maxthon allows you to save your browsing session across multiple devices, which means when you fire it up on your Android phone and search for a page, you can come back to it later on your Android tablet. The browser also includes support for tabs and favorites syncing, and allows you to browse under "private" settings so that no other users can see what you've been up to, should you not want them to. Maxthon also allows for social sharing on Facebook and Twitter, among a ton of other features.

Who's it for? Anyone in the market for a new mobile browser should give Maxthon a look, especially if you have more than one device and you want to sync your browsing capabilities between them.

What's it like? Another solid mobile browser is Dolphin, as well as Google's popular Chrome.
