

EAST BAY TIMES

Photos: Bay Area remembers war veterans on Memorial Day

By Jane Tyska

May 30, 2017

The Bay Area remembers war veterans killed during active duty as we celebrate Memorial Day events in Oakland, Hayward, Alameda, Brentwood, Antioch and San Jose. Our staff photographers were there to document the remembrances as veterans, their families and community members gathered. Click here if you're having trouble viewing the gallery on your mobile device.

American flags adorn the graves of veterans at Chapel of the Chimes cemetery on Memorial Day in Hayward, Calif., Monday, May 29, 2017. The cemetery that is the final resting place for hundreds of U.S. veterans hosted an annual Memorial Day Service. (Anda Chu/Bay Area News Group)

U.S. Air Force Veteran Abel Perreira Jr. carries a wreath towards the veterans memorial during the annual Memorial Day Service at the Chapel of the Chimes in Hayward, Calif., on Monday, May 29, 2017. (Anda Chu/Bay Area News Group)

A veteran salutes during the annual Memorial Day Service at the Chapel of the Chimes in Hayward, Calif., on Monday, May 29, 2017. (Anda Chu/Bay Area News Group)

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 9601 Castro Valley perform a rifle salute during the annual Memorial Day Service at the Chapel of the Chimes in Hayward, Calif., on Monday, May 29, 2017. (Anda Chu/Bay Area News Group)