Out & About

By Jim Provenzano
Sept. 3, 2015

If you never see art you haven't enjoyed before, how do you know if you like it? If a great event slipped under your radar last time, but was a few miles away, would you give it a second chance? Classic musicals are being restaged, from amateur to professional touring shows, and although some are out of town, they're worth a road trip.
