Attracting and retaining top financial professionals is what distinguishes California Bank & Trust from the rest. And readers thought it good enough to place in the top spot in this category for the fourth consecutive year.

The financial institution has more than 100 branches across the state and more than $10 billion in assets, but with fewer than 10 locations in Orange County, California Bank & Trust is a lot smaller than most banks.

California Bank & Trust was created in October 1998 when parent company Zions Bancorporation, a Utah-based organization that operates under distinct brands in 11 Western states, acquired three financial institutions – Sumitomo Bank of California, San Diego-based Grossmont Bank and First National Bank. Fresno-based Regency Bank was added in 1999, with Eldorado Bank and Antelope Valley Bank being incorporated in 2001.
