The relocation of California Bank & Trust’s Palmdale branch and its investment in the Antelope Valley region is the latest in a series of upgrades and investment by the bank. California Bank & Trust also recently relocated its Indio branch and will be opening an International banking center in the first quarter of 2015.

In addition, California Bank & Trust continues to introduce technology enhancements to its mobile and online customer banking experience. In 2014, California Bank & Trust introduced mobile check deposit service CBT Mobile Deposit, a new website for greater ease of customer interaction and fraud text alerts for real-time transaction verification. Additional enhancements are planned for 2015.

“In this geography and throughout California we continue to enhance the banking experience for our customers by delivering more convenient and welcoming environments while also delivering online and mobile banking tools so our customers can bank anywhere, anytime,” said Betty Uribe, Executive Vice President, Head of the Greater Southern California Division for California Bank & Trust.
