Apron Front Farmhouse Sinks: Our Best, Budget Picks

If you love the look of an apron front (or farmhouse) sink, look no further than this handy guide, where we've rounded up 22 different sinks, in all kinds of different materials and price points. No matter your budget, you're sure to find a sink that will be a complete showstopper in your kitchen.

Before you shop, here's something you should know about apron front sinks right off the bat: they're not cheap. You'll spend significantly more on a farmhouse-style sink than you would on a comparable traditional sink. With that said, if price is your most important consideration, your best bet is a stainless or fireclay sink. If the sink pictured is not in the size you're looking for, do a little online hunting — most of these sinks come in multiple widths.
