The Modern Farmhouse aesthetic has been getting a lot of buzz lately and with good reason. We love the way it combines some of the best elements of rustic and modern and adds just a touch of industrial. The end result is an elegant sophistication that is still very approachable.

Bring this trend to life with the Native Trails Pinnacle apron-front farmhouse kitchen sink in brushed nickel. Pinnacle is a one-of-a-kind standout piece. It combines artisan crafted hand-hammered beauty with a sleek design to give you a functional work of art that feels both of the moment and timeless.
