Zen Inspired

PAUL BENTHAM

Lauren Levant Interior, Pittsburgh, PA

It was up to Paul Bentham of Lauren Levant Interior to update this 1970s-era master bath design and deliver a clean, sophisticated look with ample storage and the relaxed, Zen-like atmosphere the clients desired.

Bentham chose to emphasize the room's strengths, which included an existing vaulted ceiling clad in warm wood. To modernize the look, he selected a porcelain tile in a neutral hue - Porcelanosa's 18"x47" Pietra Blue Stone Lineal Ceramic Tile.

The existing shower room was removed to allow for the placement of a long floating vanity along the largest vaulted wall. The Quality Custom Cabinetry vanity features flat grain cherry veneer with full-overlay construction.

Hardware from Top Knobs in a Flat Black finish works in conjunction with the Omicron Absolute Black Granite countertop in a leathered finish and black matte Sento faucet from Graff. To tie in the cement-look tiles, Bentham added NativeStone Nipomo bath sinks from Native Trails. Robern's M Series medicine cabinets with charging outlets provide added storage above each sink, and long pendant lights from Hubbardton Forge emphasize the height of the ceiling.
