The Interior Design Show is taking over the Metro Convention Centre this weekend, attracting a who's who of the international design scene and letting local DIY decorators load up on creative inspiration. This year, the goods on display favored playful practicality over aesthetic extravagance. Here, some stuff you won't want to miss:

A soak in this recycled copper tub by Native Trails, which is crafted and hammered by artisans in Mexico, would be super-luxurious. (It can be yours for just shy of ten grand):
