

San Francisco An Lok Ju elderly birthday celebration of Chinese people hundred years old smile

June 22, 2017

Le Chinatown elderly care centers for 4 hundred Chinese who hold birthday

On Wednesday (June 21), China Town San Francisco Lok Habitat Elderly Care Center (On Lok Lifeways Powell PACE Center) to four hundred Chinese The old man held a spectacular celebration. Accompanied by joy of birthday songs, family and staff together for the birthday of birthday birthday blessing, as well as community volunteers to red envelopes to the elderly, to express their minds.

Four hundred years old Rui were 107-year-old Su Choi Mei, 105-year-old Fang Huizhen, and about 100 years old Tan Meizhen and Cao Yuyan. Su 's five family members happy to take pictures with the elderly, her son Jimmy Chow excitedly said: "Mom a lifetime of charity, is God for her longevity.

Talk about the health and longevity of the secret, hale and hearty Cao Yuyan old man said that his life is actually no special place, only every meal to "eat, drink plenty of water."

China's " Anjuju " is the first care center in the nation to provide an all-inclusive care program for the elderly, funded by the government and therefore inexpensive. Can be based on health status, for the elderly to provide medical, rehabilitation and other full-service. There are currently 132 elderly people aged 86 years old who use the services provided by the center to enjoy their old age.

Karen Gee, the center's project manager, says the staff will take care of the elderly as a family and carry them with a variety of activities and keep them happy. At the same time tailor-made health care can be timely detection and treatment of different types of diseases.

At present, there are six care centers in the San Francisco Bay Area. Those aged 55 years old who have Medicaid and Medicare can apply. Zhu Baoxia said the center has been nursing 14,000 elderly people over the past 44 years and is expected to add another two thousand by 2018.