

Spring Break Skiing: Time to hit the slopes

by Marika Flatt & Leeza Dennis on March 8, 2016

There are a lot of families in Texas that are gearing up for a ski trip during the upcoming Spring Break. Whether you're headed to Idaho, Colorado or Montana, here are some items that might make your vacation more fun, safer or just flow smoother, in general. (Make sure and hover over the item to read the description and click the right arrow on each item to view the next one!)

Tripping.com or HomeAway.com
 As the world's largest search engine for vacation and short-term rentals, it has 5 million+ rentals in destinations worldwide. You can also use HomeAway.com to search for a home or condo rental for your ski vacation. Getting a condo or home is great for fixing meals on your trip.
