

Los Angeles Times

Comedians in cars? Nope. Kevin Nealon takes his celebrity guests out to L.A. trails

BY MATT PAWLIK
SEPT. 29, 2022 11 AM PT

Cool stuff

What does it mean to be from California? California visionaries Greg Sarris and Obi Kaufmann explore the question in their new video podcast, "Place and Purpose." Recorded and broadcast live once per month in the backcountry of Sonoma Mountain, the two Golden State chroniclers cover topics ranging from California ecology to historic policy to Indigenous wisdom. Their continued conversation is profound, optimistic and perfect listening material at home or on a natural stroll. "We hope listeners are able to walk out their door, see the trees, smell the air and think about things in a different and new way," Sarris told me. Check out their next live broadcast on Oct. 6 from UCLA's campus (where Sarris was once a professor) and join in on the conversation.

Learn about California's natural history and future in "Place and Purpose" with Greg Sarris and Obi Kaufmann. (Place and Purpose)

<https://www.latimes.com/travel/newsletter/2022-09-29/hiking-with-kevin-nealon-snl-the-wild>