Tasha Henneman

Chief of Policy & Government Affairs at PRC

EDUCATION: Mills College (Oakland, CA)

Tasha Henneman joins PRC as its new chief of policy and government affairs. Henneman will oversee the organization's public policy and government affairs, as well as all communications functions. She will also serve as director of the Black Leadership Council, an initiative sponsored by PRC to address broken systems of care for African-Americans and other minority populations throughout California. Henneman's professional experience encompasses more than two decades in the nonprofit and government sectors. Prior to joining PRC, Henneman most recently was chief of staff at SF Goodwill Industries. Henneman earned her Ph. D. and M.A. in early childhood education and leadership at Mills College. She also holds an M.A. in public administration from California State University Hayward and a B.A. from California State University Chico.
