Centre for Neuro Skills Announces New General Counsel

Bakersfield, Calif. (Jan. 23, 2024) - Centre for Neuro Skills (CNS), a leader in traumatic brain injury and stroke rehabilitation services, today announced the appointment of Jamie Mason, J.D., as general counsel.

"Jamie has extensive in-house counsel experience and a strong background in healthcare," says Nicholas Ashley, chief governance officer of Centre for Neuro Skills. "She is a fast learner and quickly integrated herself with the team. We are fortunate to have her in the company to keep us moving forward."

Mason joined CNS as assistant general counsel in March 2023. As general counsel, she will oversee all aspects of the organization's legal, risk management and regulatory performance efforts. Mason will provide oversight across all seven CNS clinics throughout California and Texas.

Mason received her Juris Doctor degree from Southwestern Law School and has more than 10 years of experience as a trial attorney, primarily representing hospitals, medical groups, physicians and attorneys.

The CNS Bakersfield clinic is the company's flagship location, established in 1980. CNS has two other clinics across California in Los Angeles and San Francisco, as well as four Texas clinics in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and Austin. Through inpatient, outpatient, day treatment and residential rehabilitation programs, CNS' facilities provide tailored neurorehabilitation therapy to patients.

"Centre for Neuro Skills is not only an industry leader in post-acute neurorehabilitation services but also a pioneer in healthcare with unmatched passion, innovation and growth," said Mason. "It is an honor and privilege to serve as general counsel for CNS, and contribute to making a positive impact on our patients' lives."
